

“Events do not have meaning. Events are events and meanings are thoughts. Nothing has any meaning save the meaning you give it. And the meaning you give to things does not derive from any event, circumstance, condition or situation exterior to yourself. The ‘giving of meaning’ is entirely an internal process – entirely!”

Neale Donald Walsch, When Everything Changes, Change Everything